

'Hello' Social Skills CD-ROM

'Hello' teaches children how to play and make friends, talk about themselves and answer everyday questions. This multimedia CD-ROM combines interactive games and narrated sections to help develop new communication skills and social confidence. Printable teaching resources include colouring pages, games and worksheets, making 'Hello' a 'must have' resource for home and school.

The program includes 5 narrated, interactive sections with 8 boy and girl characters for your child to interact with and learn about.

- Increase social skills
- Gain confidence with friends
- Understand words, terms and questions
- Understand the importance of 'friends'
- Respond to basic questions

What topics does the programme cover?

'Hello' begins with the word 'hello' - we hear it all the time, but what does it mean? In this section the narrator explains what hello means and why we say it. The interactive characters say 'Hello' when clicked.

'What is your name?' is a question children are frequently asked. When a child has difficulties both in understanding and answering this question, it can be confusing. This section explains what your 'name' is and why friends and other people ask 'What is your name?'

'How old are you?' is another question people ask that many children have difficulty understanding. This question is clearly explained by the narrator and then the child is asked to click on the number that is their age. Fun visual and sound effects play when they click their age.

'Friends' & 'Making Friends' In these sections having and making friends is explained by the narrator, who talks about all the fun things you can do when you have friends and why friends are good to have. There are images of different places you meet friends.
